

Richard Holtz
CEO, InfiniSys Inc.

Richard Holtz is the CEO of InfiniSys, a multifamily technology consulting and Electronic Architecture firm founded in 1989. Richard strongly advocates for the standards-based implementation of technologies that can be used by a broad range of consumers and upgraded for future services. Named one of the most influential people in real estate and technology, Richard frequently speaks at events centering on the business opportunities created by technology-based amenities. He has been instrumental in developing and implementing the concept of the NetworkedApartment™, the FTTA™ Fiber-to-the-Apartment system and branded technology packages such as PostSmart™ (Post Properties) and Roselink™ (Roseland Property Company).
