

2022- 2023 Estimated Cost of Attendance - LL.M. Program

The College of Law requires LL.M. students to complete a minimum of 24 Law credits in order to obtain the degree. Students must enroll in a minimum of 9 credits per semester. The total cost-of-attendance depends on the length of a student’s course of study.

Two-Semester LL.M. Program

Two-Semester “Traditional” Track (12+ credits per semester)			Your Actual Expenses
1	Tuition	Anticipated flat rate of $27,570 charged to students enrolled in 12 or more credits.	$55,140
2.	Health and Wellness Fee	$798	$798
3.	Law Student Resource Fee	$1,280	$1,280
4.	Activity Fee	$90	$90
5.	Health Insurance*	$1,900
6.	Books and Supplies	$1,906
7.	Housing	$10,427
8.	Meals	$3,951
8.	Transportation	$1,526
10.	Personal Allowance	$2,102
Estimated Total Cost of Attendance Two-Semester LL.M. Program			$79,120

Only full-time students (enrolled in at least 9 credits each semester) are eligible and required to have Affordable Care Act (ACA) compliant insurance coverage during the academic year. A fee for Health Insurance will be charged to your Student Account by the University Bursar. This mandatory fee may be waived if a student has adequate health insurance coverage. Learn more online at <https://ese.syr.edu/bewell/insurance/>

For students seeking to borrow U.S. government-funded financial aid, allowable types of budget adjustments may include the one-time cost of purchasing a computer or childcare expenses, and the cost to purchase health insurance. Additional expenses must be approved by the College of Law Financial Aid Office with the proper documentation.

Expenses NOT allowed in the educational budget include costs of moving, payment of consumer debt, the purchase or upkeep of an automobile, costs associated with finding employment, and expenses incurred during periods of non-enrollment. Students bringing dependents should anticipate an additional cost of $9,500 per semester for each dependent.

Figures 1-4 represent estimated tuition and fees in full-time study. Figure 5 represents a required, but waiveable, charge for student health insurance. Figures 6 through 10 may vary from student to student.

All costs above are expected to be confirmed each Spring semester per University policy and may differ slightly from above.
 If you have questions about calculating your budget, managing costs during enrollment at the College of Law, or other questions related to financial aid, please contact our office at financialaid@law.syr.edu or 315-443-1962.

2022 - 2023 Estimated Cost of Attendance - LL.M. Program

The College of Law requires LL.M. students to complete a minimum of 24 Law credits in order to obtain the degree. Students must enroll in a minimum of 9 credits per semester. The total cost-of-attendance depends on the length of a student's course of study

Three-Semester LL.M. Program

Three-Semester "Standard" Track			Your Actual Expenses
		Rate of $1,980 per credit charged to students enrolled in 11 or fewer credits per semester.
1.	Tuition	24 Credits x $1,980=	$47,520
2.	Health and Wellness Fee	$798	$798
3.	Law Student Resource Fee	$1,280	$1,280
4.	Activity Fee	$90	$90
5.	Health Insurance*	$1,900
6.	Books and Supplies	$1,906
7.	Housing	$10,427
8.	Meals	$3,951
9.	Transportation	$1,526
10.	Personal Allowance	$2,102
Estimated Total Cost of Attendance Three-Semester LL.M. Program			$82,406

Note the increase in cost for the 3-semester accounts for increased living expenses and a slight increase in cost per credits. Students may also take more than 24 credits over their 3-semesters and will be charged accordingly. The scenario presented above (i.e. 9, 9, 6 credits per semester) is one "standard" scenario among other options.

Only full-time students (enrolled in at least 9 credits each semester) are eligible and required to have Affordable Care Act (ACA) compliant insurance coverage during the academic year. A fee for Health Insurance will be charged to your Student Account by the University Bursar. This mandatory fee may be waived if a student has adequate health insurance coverage. Learn more online at <https://ese.syr.edu/bewell/insurance/>

For students seeking to borrow U.S. government-funded financial aid, allowable types of budget adjustments may include the one-time cost of purchasing a computer or childcare expenses, and the cost to purchase health insurance. Additional expenses must be approved by the College of Law Financial Aid Office with the proper documentation.

Expenses NOT allowed in the educational budget include costs of moving, payment of consumer debt, the purchase or upkeep of an automobile, costs associated with finding employment, and expenses incurred during periods of non-enrollment. Students bringing dependents should anticipate an additional cost of $9,500 per semester for each dependent.

Figures 1-4 represent estimated tuition and fees in full-time study. Figure 5 represents a required, but waiveable, charge for student health insurance. Figures 6 through 10 may vary from student to student.

All costs above are expected to be confirmed each Spring semester per University policy and may differ slightly from above. If you have questions about calculating your budget, managing costs during enrollment at the College of Law, or other questions related to financial aid, please contact our office at financialaid@law.syr.edu or 315-443-1962.